Kira has gone to Skye to help her get over an ex-boyfriend. Ian is there to see his friends and his ailing parents. They see each other across a crowded pub and the rest is obvious... except it isn't. They have a great night larking about and swapping problems, but the next day they return to their homes and their lives.

Aylin Tezel wrote, directed and starred here, and she has come up with 'an antidote to Hollywood-style romcoms...Sensitive, fearlessly honest and forgiving, it sees two people make a connection amid the ongoing chaos of their lives' - Emma Simmonds, The List.

Unbeknownst to either Kira or Ian, they both live in London. Will they or won't they ever meet again..?
